

Blundell Library

June 11, 2020

Thank you so much for returning your books! We still have 1,023 books left to collect, so please continue to bring back any books you still have at home. There is a bin outside the covered entrance for Blundell library books.

Looking for more activities and ways to learn? Science world is offering their Science Theatre shows and Omnimax films for free! Watch some of your favourite documentaries right at home. Make it a documentary night for the whole family. Space, dinosaurs, mummies, and ocean creatures are just some of the films available. I watched the Dinosaurs Alive video. It's 43 minutes and truly exciting. For all "the want to be Paleontologists", for all the students who love learning about dinosaurs, less than 2% of all the dinosaur species have been found. Don't forget to explore their Resources page to find cool experiments and activities.

Check out the Art Collections Tile in destiny.sd38.bc.ca. Go to Blundell Library, then press catalog. Scroll down to Collections and then, to the Art Tile.

There are many arts and crafts to make and create. Please feel free to send me a picture of one you made to jcramer@sd38.bc.ca

I would be happy to put it in our next Library Newsletter.

Check out the entire list of arts and crafts in NASA Space Place and selected art in NASA.

As mentioned above, these are both inside of the Art Collections. Please email me with any questions about ebooks and audiobooks within destiny.

Book Recommendations

For older students: Currently in our Destiny ebooks:

Gertie Milk & the keeper of lost things

Simon Van Booy.

"As the newest Keeper of Lost Things, Gertie Milk travels through time to return missing objects to famous figures at key moments in history, following the directives of the B.D.B.U.--a book that contains the knowledge of the world--and searching for clues to her past."--OCLC.

1 of 1 available

For younger students: Currently in our Destiny ebooks:

Tomorrow most likely

words by Dave Eggers ; pictures by Lane Smith.

"Told in rhyme, a little boy, tucked into his bed, thinks of all the wonderful and ordinary things he will see and do tomorrow"--OCLC.

1 of 1 available

How to access eBooks or Audiobooks to read the book recommendations:

Go to destiny.sd38.bc.ca. Click on Blundell, then catalog. Scroll down to eBooks or Audiobooks. Click on the book, then log in using our username (38blund) and password (oval). For more books, scroll right to the end of the ribbon and click on See All.